

ELECTION INTEGRITY & THE DISCIPLES OF LOYOLA

"Shaped by centuries of Jesuit¹ education around the globe, our culture embraces the changing times while staying true to core values – engaging your intellect, helping you grow ethically and spiritually, exchanging ideas freely and building a more just world." (Georgetown University, Washington D.C.; Who we are – our Catholic Jesuit Heritage²)

John Winthrop – 1628:³ "Reasons to be considered for justifying the undertakers of the intended Plantation in New England, and for encouraging such whose hearts God shall move to join with them in it: 1. It will be a service to the Church of great consequence to carry the Gospel into those parts of the world, to help on the fullness of the coming of the Gentiles, and to raise a bulwark against the kingdom of AnteChrist, which the Jesuits labor to rear up in those parts."

John Adams – 1816:⁴ "I do not like the late Resurrection [August 1814] of the Jesuits ... if they do not put Purity of our Elections to a Severe Tryal, it will be a Wonder."

Dag Jørgen Høgetveit; June 3, 2024

"For over 300 years, since 1624 [or four years after the Mayflower anchored at Cape Cod], the Jesuits have been forbidden to enter Norway. Since 1814, the prohibition is in Article 2 of the Constitution. The last attempt made to have the ban lifted, in 1925, was rejected by an overwhelming majority of Stortinget [the Norwegian parliament]. This time, the initiative to have the ban lifted emanates from the Royal Ministry of Foreign Affairs, with the assistance of the Ministry of Church and Justice – supported by the government press and a large number of anti-Christian and humanist editors in other newspapers." (Olav Valen-Sendstad⁵; Should the Jesuits be allowed to enter Norway?; NRK, the Norwegian public broadcaster, April 11, 1951.⁶) The ban was relegated 1956.

Valen-Sendstad: "The Jesuit order has not been banned because it is a religious order, but because it is a rather malignant religious-political fighting organization, which is in the service of a religious-political power that asserts supremacy of a spiritual and political nature against all peoples – namely the Roman papal power."

Four hundred years forwards from 1624 (or 1628 if preferred) – 2024, March 31: "The [US] House Oversight Committee has officially opened an investigation into the Transition Integrity Project at Georgetown University. In a letter to Rosa Brooks, who is the founder and facilitator of that group, Rep. Pete Sessions spoke about the "intensely partisan exercise" which he states is "intended to sew dissension and subversion regarding the American election system and the institution of the president of the United States."⁷

Congressman Sessions (TX) writes:⁸ "One of the publicly identified participants of TIP [Transition Integrity Project] was Major General (Ret.) Paul D. Eaton. In 2021, General Eaton published an op-ed with two other retired flag officers in which they stated that a similar wargaming exercise to TIP should be replicated to the military and making sure that it is under control. Please identify any active duty military or Department of Defense officials with whom you or anyone at Georgetown Law Center or your affiliates have contacted for the 2020 TIP effort and any present project."

"Recently, Professor Mary B. McCord, the Executive Director of the Georgetown University School of Law's Institute for Constitutional Advocacy and Protections (ICAP), said "we're already starting to put together a team to think through the most damaging types of things that he [Trump] might do so that we're ready to bring lawsuits if we have to." Please define if Professor McCord and her colleagues are conducting this hyper partisan activity under the auspices of ICAP – an entity which is described as a "non-partisan institute within Georgetown University Law Center" on the ICAP website. In your response to this inquiry, please articulate ..."

"Please explain if you are involved in the project described by NBC News as "loose-knit network of public interest groups and lawmakers ... quietly devising plans" to suppress the Article Two provisions defining presidential control of the military. As you may recall, in your 2017 book you wrote about these foundational norms of civilian control over the American military and how "it's time to toss them aside." As mentioned, Mary McCord intimated that ICAP is helping lead this effort – and as Associate Dean for Centers and Institutes, you are McCord's supervisor. I am interested to know of your involvement in this group "quietly devising plans" to change or violate the U.S. Constitution."

The Transition Integrity Project – Tucker Carlson (TC) & J. Michael Waller (JMW) – published May 18:⁹

TC - "... four years ago, a professor at Georgetown University called Rosa Brooks headed up a group that she called the Transition Integrity Project. Heard of it? ... you're about to learn a lot more about it. So the goal of the Transition Integrity Project, this was before the last presidential election, of course, was to play out different outcomes from that election and see how the country would handle each one – kind of a war game, a political war game. The project was made up of representatives from a bunch of different groups – but similar groups – law professors, political strategists, retired military officers, all from the left...

So here was the assessment of what they found – this is Rosa Brooks describing it, we're quoting – 'A landslide for Joe Biden resulted in a relatively orderly transfer of power. Every other scenario we looked at involves street-level violence and political crisis'. That's not a threat, though. She went on – and we're quoting: 'With the exception of the 'big Biden win' scenario, each of our exercises reached the brink of catastrophe. With massive disinformation campaigns, violence in the streets and a constitutional impasse'. End quote. Again, not a threat at all – elect our guy, or America falls apart and people die; that's just a result of social science...

So the Washington Post, owned by the richest man in the world, Jeff Bezos, dutifully printed these results in September 2020, two months before the election...

... will this project and this kind of thinking and the people who pulled it off have any effect on the coming presidential election? Well, J. Michael Waller has thought a lot about this. He once worked for the CIA, he knows a lot about the Intel world having been part of it. He's a Senior Analyst for Strategy at the Center for Security Policy^{10,11}, the author of a new book called Big Intel."

"TC -So what would be the point of this?"

JMW -To make sure that their transition has integrity, meaning that even – according to their latest war games – if Donald Trump wins a free and fair election, he still has to be removed.

TC -So if you have people – again, just a definition of terms – if you have people who are calling for the removal by force of an elected official, that is, I mean, that is insurrection, right?

JMW -It's, yes, it's legal insurrection, because they're doing this now through lawfare. They're doing it through Georgetown University Law Center. That's the premier law school in Washington, DC. It's [and let's emphasize it: it's] a feeder school to the Justice Department. It's a feeder school to Supreme Court clerks, to the whole intelligence community. And this stuff is being planned there.

TC -So a country that cared about its own preservation, cared to, you know, see its own systems continue for the benefit of its grandchildren, would immediately shut down Georgetown University Law Center, obviously, because it's a, it's an insurrectionist?

JMW -Imagine if Hillsdale [College] was doing this."

And, with Shane Harris:¹² "It's worth noting here that none of the TIP [2020] "wargames" or scenarios were ever intended to be made public – it was only after a series of embarrassing leaks that the group decided to release their full report in an attempt to save face that largely backfired."

Harris: "TIP participants were ostensibly concerned about Trump refusing to leave office if Biden won. But as [Matt] Taibbi writes, the final TIP report on the election, published on August 3, 2020, "read like a year by year synopsis" of every Democrat effort to overturn Trump's 2016 election victory, undermine his presidency, and now prevent his return to the White House.

For instance, TIP participants feared that Trump would "launch investigations into opponents" – which is exactly what Biden and Democrats are doing now to Trump. The TIP report also alleged that Trump would "use Department of Justice and/or the intelligence agencies to cast doubt on election results or discredit his opponents" – exactly what the Clinton campaign and the Democrat establishment attempted to do in 2016 with the infamous Steele Dossier and Russia Collusion Hoax.^[13]

One TIP simulation even predicted "that Trump would contrive to label Biden supporters guilty of 'insurrection' for protesting a 'clear Trump win.'" Now, of course, we've seen a direct reversal of that prediction as Biden and Democrats have labeled Trump and every one of his supporters "insurrectionists" and made "protecting democracy" the main theme of their 2024 campaign."

Rosa Brooks again – in Deroy Murdock's Hoyagate: Georgetown Law Is Vatican of Trump Hatred,¹⁴ (where Murdock mentions former positions and achievements of several 'Georgetown's Hate Trump, Inc.' collaborators) – Murdock:

"Rosa Brooks was a senior advisor in Obama-Biden's State Department and Pentagon. She has collaborated for decades with the galaxy of far-Left groups that revolve around neo-Marxist über-donor George Soros. She co-founded TIP.

Brooks confirmed her commitment to democracy just 10 days into the Trump Administration. In her Foreign Policy magazine article headlined "Three ways to get rid of Trump," she offered another idea. "The fourth possibility is one that until recently I would have said was unthinkable in the United States of America: a military coup."

"For [Executive Director of ICAP, Mary] McCord and the Georgetown Trump haters, it's not about a presidential honeymoon, better ideas, or compromise. It's about girding Democrats to pounce, the moment Trump says, "So help me God" next January 20. This would parallel the Washington Post headline, "The campaign to impeach President Trump has begun," published at 12:27 p.m. on January 20, 2017 – precisely 27 minutes into Trump's first term.

The same Leftist Democrats who praise "our democracy" plotted Trump's ouster literally during his swearing-in ceremony, before he had signed one bill or commenced his inaugural parade."

And Shane Harris quotes Matt Taibbi: "The Washington political class "reordered the geography of the world, blithely moved whole manufacturing sectors from one continent to another, started moronic wars that pointlessly killed millions and created millions more refugees, bailed out corrupt banks while whole regions went into foreclosure, and failed to accomplish much but a growing sense of foreboding and decline despite decades of promises to the contrary."

Yet despite all this chaos, tragedy, and failure, "they feel sincere rage at the idea that they should have to earn votes.""

And TIP summarized by Mike Benz¹⁵ a couple of months ago: "-This is basically a plot – probably the cleanest thing we've ever seen in this country to a domestic color revolution planning crew."

May 6, 1816 – John Adams to Thomas Jefferson:¹⁶ "I do not like the late Resurrection of the Jesuits [August 1814]. They have a General, now in Russia, in correspondence with the Jesuits in the U.S. who are more numerous than every body knows. Shall We not have Swarms of them here? as many Shapes and disguises as ever a King of the Gypsies, Bamfied More Carew himself, assumed? In the shape of Printers, Editors, Writers School masters &c. I have lately read Pascalls Letters over again, and four Volumes of the History of the Jesuits. If ever any Congregation of Men could merit, eternal Perdition on Earth and in Hell; according to these Historians though like Pascall true Catholicks, it is this Company of Loiola. Our System however of Religious Liberty must afford them an Assylum. But if they do not put Purity of our Elections to a Severe Tryal, it will be a Wonder."

"A little over 100 years ago, "Americanism" was a term applied within the Vatican to a litany of doctrinal lapses – including, in the words of Pope Leo XIII [1878 to 1903]¹⁷, "the assumed right to hold whatever opinions one pleases" – to which many Americans would plead guilty as charged."¹⁸

"... whereas the exertions of the U.S.A. and of the U.S.S.R., are followed with growing apprehension, those of the Vatican are seldom scrutinized. Yet not a single event of importance that has contributed to the present chaotic state of affairs has occurred without the Vatican taking an active part in it."

"The American citizen, perturbed by the past, bewildered by the present and made increasingly anxious about the future, would do well to ponder the exertions of the Vatican in contemporary American and world politics. His destiny as well as the destiny of the United States, and indeed of mankind, has been and will continue to be profoundly affected by the activities of an institution which, although a church, is nonetheless as mighty a political power as the mightiest nation on the planet.

If the Vatican's part in WWI & II, as described by authors Edmond Paris (1894-1970) and Avro Manhattan (1914-1990), is something to go by, one better have at least one eye on the same as we're pushed into WWII;²² the Vatican "were coldly contemplating the consequences of their act: a general conflict which would set the Central European Empires against France and Russia" – "One may say quite specifically that in 1914, the Roman Church started the series of hellish wars. It was then that the tribute of blood which she has always taken from the peoples began to swell into a veritable torrent." (Paris²³)

(And in the present torrent of the blood of hundreds of thousands of Ukrainians & Russians, shows 28th May up a Tucker Carlson conversation²⁴ with Jeffrey Sachs regarding the Washington-provoked war in Europe and 'how we trip ourselves into WWII' – Sachs: "-This has nothing to do with morality, it has nothing to do with Western values, it has nothing to do with American values, it doesn't even have to do with American interests, from what I can see".

"-Tucker, just to say: Until this moment, every senior official in the U.S., or the Secretary General of NATO, Jens Stoltenberg, says: Ukraine will join NATO. And one thing everyone that's listening should understand: Ukraine will never join NATO short of a nuclear war, because Russia will never allow it – period."²⁵

Add to it what Polish Foreign Minister Radoslaw Sikorski recently states:²⁶ "The Americans have told the Russians that if you explode a nuke, even if it doesn't kill anybody, we will hit all your targets in Ukraine with conventional weapons, we will destroy all of them".)

"Out of all the fictions generally accepted in this world, the spirit of peace and harmony attributed to the Holy See is probably the most difficult to root up – as this spirit seems inherent to the nature of the apostolic magister itself.

In spite of the lessons of History, not fully known or too quickly forgotten, the one who calls himself "Christ's vicar" must necessarily incarnate, in the eyes of many, the ideal of love and fraternity taught by the Gospel. Does not logic, as well as sentiment, want it to be so?" Writes Paris.²⁷ Some pages later he quotes "Colonel Beck, former Foreign Affairs minister of the very Catholic Poland", 6th of

²² With the smell of WWI in the air – there is also the factor of Darwinism / Social Darwinism: "... acceptance of the possible sacrifice of men's lives was very much an active one, which developed partly in response to the increasing tendency of governments to view, and refer to, all neighbours as potential enemies. This tendency was accompanied by a general intellectual change that was the legacy of the British naturalist Charles Darwin and the philosopher Herbert Spencer. Darwin, in his epochmaking On the Origin of Species by Means of Natural Selection (published in 1859) had described the theory of evolution, while Spencer had applied the theory to people in society. The twin Darwinian notions of the "struggle for existence" and "the survival of the fittest" came to be widely accepted throughout Europe..." (Military historian and former Senior Lecturer at the Royal Military Academy, Sandhurst, Hedley Paul Willmott; World War I; p.12.)

And: "Although it is no easy task to assess all of the many conflicting motives of Hitler, Darwin-inspired eugenics clearly played a critical role. It both justified and encouraged Hitler's views on eugenics, race and war." (Bergmann, Jerry; Hitler and the Nazi Darwinian Worldview; p.51.)

And while hundreds of thousands of Russians and Ukrainians die in a war that never should have been – what was Hitler's view of Russians and Ukrainians?

AFTERWORD

"Just a few decades ago, Georgetown was renowned as the home of leading Catholic intellectuals, including names like James Schall, a prominent Jesuit writer and thinker, and foreign policy lights such as Anthony Bouscaren, Lev Dobriansky, and Jeane Kirkpatrick. Now, however, rather than these great thought leaders who exposed Soviet totalitarianism and rallied people to the defense of freedom, Georgetown has courted all the sons and daughters of the radical leftism that is tearing the United States apart." Writes 'BC Brutus'.²⁸

Avro Manhattan: "... the Vatican will side with one or the other, or indeed with anybody else, as long as it can further its own influence.

The pattern has been one of historical consistency. Early in this century, for instance, it sided with the Empires of Monarchical Europe; after World War I, it sustained the Fascist Dictatorships; following World War II, it fanned the Cold War by supporting the U.S. against Soviet Russia; after the Vietnam War, it sided with Soviet Russia against the U.S. In the eighties it has struck another working partnership with the U.S." (The Vatican Moscow Washington Alliance; Preface)

Manhattan wrote 42 years ago and one better think flexible; the enemy does – Manhattan:

"To meet the challenge of the forthcoming communist take-over of pre- and post-World War III, she has already formulated a long term strategy of her own: the creation of a peculiar new brand of Catholicised communism." "Its potential for total socio-economic disintegration is comparable with the Bolshevik cataclysm of 1917 in Russia."

"The potential outbreak of World War III, far from hampering, would help to further its expansionistic dreams. Wars in our times have invariably begotten communism [by who's wish, by the way?]. World War I produced Communist Russia. World War II produced Communist China. Regional wars since then have produced communist regimes in Africa and in Asia. World War III will produce a communist world. When that happens the Catholic Church will have produced a communist Christianity of her own. This she will use as the most suitable ideology with which to force herself, not only upon Catholic countries, but also upon those which are not.

What will be the role of the Catholic Church in a world where the hammer and the sickle has replaced the cross, where Lenin has supplanted Christ, where Bolshevism has taken the place of Christianity, and where God has been substituted by contemporary Man? The role she will play will be simplicity itself; the Leninisation of Christ, and the Catholicisation of Lenin."

Manhattan (2. Am. Ed., 1986, pp.350-2): "... in 1867, at the insistence of the New York Times, a law was passed forbidding any government funding for a Vatican ambassador."

²⁸ <https://amac.us/newsline/society/hoyagate-will-georgetown-president-have-to-testify/>

"U.S. politicians from the president downward have become increasingly sensitive to the power of the Catholic vote to tip the scales of their political fortunes. Hence their unashamed wooing of the Catholic Church."

"President Reagan ... was ... helped unexpectedly by certain leading Protestants. Late in 1983, certain ecumenical Protestants intimated to the Reagan administration that they would not oppose U.S. diplomatic recognition of the Vatican. In fact, they offered support in devising ways to minimize the opposition.

Groundwork was laid in utmost secrecy with President Reagan taking eager advice from prominent Catholic congressmen, CIA, and FBI officials who were in frequent contact with the U.S. hierarchy. In a master coup against Protestant America, the 1867 law was quietly revoked by the Congress in November, 1983. It was later admitted that it had been done in haste and without benefit of public hearings.

For a Congress which has been charged as a know-nothing in the field of both diplomacy and international commitments, this reestablishment of diplomatic relations with the Vatican was a masterpiece of constitutional deviousness if not collective dishonesty. Besides bypassing the scrutiny of public opinion and any potential denominational opposition, it stultified the basic spirit of the U.S. Constitution.

The Vatican had indeed taken another giant step in its relentless pursuit of its main goal: the conquest of America."

And from the -86 Foreword; "... the U.S. will have become the willing vassal of a conquering church at home and the mighty lay instrument of a religious political power abroad."

"- ... it's happening, we are leaving tonight, it is a big historic moment – I would argue that it is, in terms of our Constitution and indeed in terms of our position in the world, the most significant moment since Henry the eighth took England out of the Church of Rome, and tonight we leave the Treaty of Rome." (Nigel Farage; Jan. 31, 2020; <https://youtu.be/xmtT4JKUtg?t=119>; from 1:59)

Some thousand years backwards – Babel, during the time of King Nebuchadnezzar. "Thou, O king, sawest, and behold a great image... Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces. Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken to pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshingfloors; and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth...

... after thee shall arise another kingdom inferior to thee, and another third kingdom of brass... And the fourth kingdom ... as iron... the kingdom shall be divided... And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever. Forasmuch as thou sawest that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure." (Daniel 2, 31-45)
